Rhode Island College

ALUMNI NEWS

JANUARY, 1963

A Decade of Service
Dear Alumnus,

As this issue of your Alumni News reaches you, we will be in the midst of our Annual Fund Drive. The spirit with which almost 500 alumni have responded to work on this drive is most gratifying. Everyone connected with the drive has given his whole-hearted and enthusiastic support.

This is one more indication of the strength of our organization and a dramatic show of our loyalty and devotion to our Alma Mater. As our college grows our organization must also expand. It is obvious that our Alumni has matured to the point where the College can rely on our moral and financial support.

We are all justly proud of the fine performance of our basketball team this season. The many Alumni who attend the games have given the team tremendous support. It is particularly heartening to see alumni at off-campus games. The Joe Bradys dropped in to witness the dramatic RIC victory at Worcester State, and the Vin Cullens were in the stands at Central Connecticut!

This year thus far has been a resounding success. We are looking forward to a rich Fund return, a great Bridge and Fashion Revue, a big Sports Supper, and an unprecedented Alumni Weekend!

Sincerely yours,

Donald J. Driscoll
Alumni President
Dr. William Gaige is observing the tenth anniversary of his coming to Rhode Island College. He assumed the office of President in October 1952 and was officially installed in March, 1953. As this decade of service passes, the Alumni Association offers congratulations and wishes for continued success.

A tall man who never has been able to get lost in the crowd, William Gaige is a man of ideas and of action, of integrity and loyalty, of intensity and compassion. Since his arrival in Providence he has been a dynamic instrument in the growth of Rhode Island College. He has also taken an active and forthright interest in affairs of the community and of the State.

Dr. Gaige's appointment to the presidency followed a period of conflict in which doubts were expressed as to the integrity of the College program, and the College itself had faced the threat of loss of its identity. He saw in the interest generated by this controversy an opportunity for the College to regain its former prestige and to reach greater heights of service.

He immediately undertook an intensive speaking program to keep the problems and prospects of the College in the public eye. At the same time alterations were undertaken to make better use of the College building pending plans for new construction. The old auditorium was slated to have a second floor added, and work had started on this when the prospect of a new campus brought it to a halt.

On March 19, 1953 William Gaige was officially installed as the third President of Rhode Island College of Education. (There had been nine principals of the Rhode Island Normal School from 1854-1920.) Dr. Francis Keppell, then Dean of the faculty of the School of Education at Harvard University, now U.S. Commissioner of Education, gave the address, and forty-seven colleges sent representatives.

In his installation speech, Dr. Gaige pointed out the need for more teachers for the schools of Rhode Island. Later a series of formal queries supported this contention and a state-wide drive for teachers began. At the same time the new president started a recruitment program which sent the number of applicants up by 63% in 1955.

In 1953 the College won reaccreditation by the American Association for the Accreditation of Teacher Education, but was refused acceptance by the New England Council of the Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, largely on the basis of inadequate facilities. With this evidence in hand the new President led the movement to replace the old building with a new campus on Mt. Pleasant Avenue. Bond issues were passed by the voters in 1954 and again in 1956 to provide the necessary funds. The Centennial Year, 1954, gave the movement its slogan “A New College for a New Century”.

The Mt. Pleasant campus was started at the end of 1956, and the College opened its fall semester there in 1958. The opening year was observed with two major convocations and a series of other activities, including an open house for the public, and an invitation to educational organizations to use the facilities of the new campus. Meanwhile two major studies were undertaken that would have lasting effect on the College. The Commission to Study Higher Education in Rhode Island eventually recommended expansion and change at the College, and the firm of Blair Associates was employed to set up a twenty-year development plan for the physical plant of the College.

A seasoned educator with a tenacious devotion to the high purpose of teacher education, Dr. Gaige recognized the need for study and revision of the College curriculum. In 1955 and again in 1962, major changes were undertaken. The first was aimed at bringing a maximum of academic education into the program of the future teachers. The 1962 revision was to outline the curriculum for the liberal arts program and for the program for high school teachers.

Dr. Gaige came to Rhode Island from Claremont, California, where he had been Superintendent of Schools for four years. Prior to his four years on the West Coast, the Pennsylvania native had taught in Quincy and Pembroke, Mass., served as principal of the high school in Wellesley, Mass. for 7 years, and taught graduate courses at Boston University. It was following two years with the Amphibious Forces of the U. S. Navy that he went to California.

A graduate of Oberlin College, Dr. Gaige holds a masters degree from the University of Chicago and a doctorate from Harvard University. Since coming to Rhode Island he has received honorary degrees from the Rhode Island School of Pharmacy, Brown University, Providence College, and Bryant College.

A man of impulse and of conviction, he is conscientious in his efforts to consider all facets of a situation before making a decision. On the other hand, he does not hesitate to fly in the face of all contrary advice to pursue a course he considers correct. On certain scores he is adamant: citations must be accurate and well-written, the feelings of the individual are primary considerations, academic freedom must be held sacred, and the welfare of the student is paramount.

His warm personal concern for friends and colleagues is often hidden by the demands of his official position, but students, faculty and even casual visitors have found that troubles stop the clock of this busy administrator and no effort is too great if it will help to solve a personal or professional problem or to insure peace of mind. Like many executives, Dr. Gaige must unhappily choose the cloister of his office rather than the camaraderie of the college community. He would be the last to comprehend that this is a real deprivation to the students who might otherwise be warmed by the glow of his friendship.

As a conscientious citizen he has been vocal and active on behalf of urban renewal, fair housing and equitable taxes, and he has not hesitated to point out to the people of Rhode Island the dangers inherent in their tendencies toward “groupism” and “localism”.

During these ten years Dr. Gaige has seen his children grow. Fred is now 25 years old, married, and on the second year of a two-year commitment to teach in India. The twins, Linda and Lucille, graduated from college in June. Linda, a graduate of URI, is a nurse with the Army Nurse Corps. Lucille is a Jackson College graduate and is teaching mathematics. The Gaiges presently live in a state-leased house in North Providence. Part of the long-range plan for College construction includes a President’s House on campus.

The next decade will doubtless hold surprises, but it will be hard to match either the directed turbulence or the intense calm that have marked this decade of accomplishment for Bill Gaige.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Some Evidence of Change</th>
<th>1952-3</th>
<th>1962-3</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Full-time undergraduate enrollment in September</td>
<td>479</td>
<td>1,578</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Freshman enrollment</td>
<td>140</td>
<td>571</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Applicants for freshman class</td>
<td>243</td>
<td>1,306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Number of Faculty</td>
<td>74</td>
<td>177</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Instructional faculty</td>
<td>33</td>
<td>125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Administrative personnel</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Henry Barnard School faculty</td>
<td>36</td>
<td>40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Number of faculty with doctorates</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Average faculty salary</td>
<td>$5,571</td>
<td>$7,827</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total college budget</td>
<td>$363,000</td>
<td>$2,765,611</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Library expenditures for magazines and periodicals</td>
<td>$1,941</td>
<td>$30,491</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Number of books</td>
<td>25,524</td>
<td>40,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

INCREASED EMPHASIS ON CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

The broadening of extra-curricular cultural offerings at Rhode Island College is a reflection of the strong desire on the part of the President to enhance the atmosphere of intellectual and aesthetic excitement. Several lecture series, outstanding film showings, musical offerings and special talent presentations are among the ambitious projects contributing toward this development.

Roberts Hall Auditorium and the Little Theatre have provided the physical means for the initiation and growth of the varied cultural activities which help to round out the academic life of the College.

One of the most important programs to be held at the College in the past decade was the Dedication Year Symposium and Academic Convocation, held in April 1959, which appropriately marked the end of the first year on the new campus. The theme, “Modern Society’s Challenge to Education” included the humanist’s view presented by E. Champion Ward, Director of the Ford Foundation Program for Africa and the Middle East, the scientist’s view by R. Bruce Lindsay of Brown, and the social scientist’s view by David Riesman of Harvard. A major address was also delivered by Theodore Braid, educational philosopher.

In 1960 the Alumni launched its effort to sponsor an outstanding annual lecture. That year John Mason Brown, author and critic, was presented. Anthropologist Margaret Mead spoke to a capacity audience in 1961. John Ciardi, modern poet, gave this year’s address.

Typical of the efforts of Dr. Gaige to stimulate interest in the aesthetics on the RIC campus was the commissioning of muralist Hollis Holbrook to paint the three-part abstraction on the walls of the Roberts Hall lobby. The colorful collage of paint, paper, and plastic depicts in symbols the evolution of Life from the inanimate to the intellectual. The flame which symbolizes the moving force in the mural has been adapted as the motif of the RIC seal.
The enrichment series which began as a haphazard succession of unrelated programs, has been coordinated by Dean Charles B. Willard into the "College Lectures", and is now deliberately planned to supplement the College's general offerings. Among the many speakers have been Dr. Paul Weiss of Brown, Dr. Donald Durrell of Boston University, Dr. Helen Manning of Bryn Mawr College and Dr. Roland Ellich of Middlebury College. Dr. Moncrieff Spear, a State Department analyst, spoke on the "Berlin Crisis" and Dr. Emiliana P. Noecher, Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study, who discussed "Italian Intellectuals and the National Conscience, 1900-1914".

In 1959 a series of evening lectures was scheduled for the benefit of the graduate classes. Two years later these were generalized to appeal to all students and planned under the direction of Dr. Ridgway Shinn as two complementary units. In the Fall the James P. Adams Lectures are held. The topics for these are concerned mainly with the humanities. The sciences are dealt with during the Spring in the Robert Marshall Brown Lectures.

One of the most recent additions to the lecture program has been the Religious Lecture Series. Beginning this year, the former Chapel period has been replaced by talks on broad theological issues given by religious leaders. Attendance is voluntary.

The faculty colloquium series was started during the 1961 curriculum revision as an effort to share ideas for the improvement of instruction. In this series, the faculty is addressed from time to time by one of its members. This gives various individuals a chance to bring to their colleagues views on subjects of specific interest to the speaker, ranging from a critique of a favorite author to opinions on the values of cultural anthropology.

The Distinguished Film Series has enabled the College students to see some notable productions. The Life Of Emile Zola, Grapes Of Wrath, Hamlet, Cry The Beloved Country, The Brothers Karamazov are among those that have been shown.

Performing artists of national reputation entertain large audiences at the College. Count Basie and his orchestra and Errol Garner appeared at social events. Carlos Montoya was well received at a student assembly in 1961. This year assembly programs have been coordinated into a Fine Arts Series. Josh White, folk singer and guitarist, and Hal Holbrook, known for his Mark Twain characterizations, gave the first two of a series of four programs.

The Rhode Island College Theatre, the Community Orchestra and the College Choir present opportunities for participation. The College Community Orchestra came into being with the move to the Mt. Pleasant campus. At the insistence of the President, the opportunity for participation was made available to students, faculty or friends, under the direction of Dr. Abraham Schwadron. Similarly Roberts Hall afforded the Dramatic League unprecedented facilities for stage offerings, and it gradually developed into the R.I.C. Theatre.

"Culture" is presently the subject of much joshing, both in Washington and at Rhode Island College, but none can deny that the motivation, the opportunities and the atmosphere for cultural growth play a very important part in the life of the College student.

---

SPORTSCOPE . . .

Shooting, rebounding, passing and depth — Rhode Island College has them all this season. The result: a sparkling 12-4 basketball record. That mark includes eight New England State College Conference victories in nine tries.

Coach Tom Sheehan has put together his finest team in four seasons at the College. If the Anchormen can carry their first semester performance into the second semester they may very well produce their first conference championship.

A well-balanced club has meant that RIC has not had to depend entirely upon any one player. Freshman guard Frank Smith has been the leading scorer, but Bill McCaughey and Mike Van Leesten have been able to tally the baskets on the nights that Smith couldn't find the rim.

McCaughey, 6-6, Van Leesten, 6-4, and Jack Wheeler, 6-3, have given the Anchormen control of the backboards. Rebounding aid has also come from 6-5 Tim Walsh.

With three guards of starting caliber, Sheehan has had ample opportunity to rotate his backcourtmen. Smith alternates with junior Charlie Wilkes and freshman Bill Nicynski. Nicynski is an outstanding ballhandler who has also been doing some heavy scoring in recent games.

Wilkes, a third-year starter, manages to keep a cool head when the action gets hot and has been instrumental as a playmaker. Smith's 16.4 scoring average speaks for itself. He has displayed uncanny accuracy from the far corners of the court.

Ray Pepin, Stan Traverse and Leon Paparella have seen frequent action at the guard positions.

RIC's toughest test of the second semester will come February 8 when it plays host to Gorham (Maine) State. Gorham State had been averaging 108 points per game and was undefeated when the Anchormen toppled them, 82-74, for the RIC Holiday Tournament title in December. Gorham will be seeking revenge.

UPCOMING GAMES

- Feb. 1 PLYMOUTH STATE
- Feb. 4 WESTFIELD STATE
- Feb. 8 GORHAM STATE
- Feb. 13 at Willimantic State
- Feb. 16 SALEM STATE
- Feb. 18 at Lowell State
- Feb. 23 BRIDGEWATER STATE

WRESTLING

Don't be too surprised if you hear grunting and groaning coming from the direction of Rhode Island College. The College now has a wrestling team.

Coached by Gene I. Maeroff, the team will make its debut against the Brown University Junior Varsity, February 8 at Brown. The meet, which will start at 6:15, is to be followed by the Princeton-Brown basketball game. In early March, the Anchormen will tangle with the URI varsity.

The wrestlers are a little weak in the lower weights, but the upper weights boast some fine candidates in John Westnedge, Bob Hamel, Chuck Costello, Tom Dolce and Ed Lemoi.
Dr. ROBERT T. AMOS

Dr. Robert T. Amos, Chairman of the Psychology Department of Rhode Island College and Acting Chairman of the Division of Professional Studies, died suddenly and unexpectedly late on the evening of January 1. He had conferred with colleagues earlier in the day, had been visited by a student during the evening, and was apparently working on the projected psychology program when he was stricken.

Amos, who was 42 years old, had joined the Rhode Island College faculty in 1956 as an assistant professor. In 1959 he was raised to an associate professor. He had been on the faculty of Howard University immediately before coming to RIC. He had previously served as instructor in psychology at State Teachers College in Bowie, Md., resident adviser at the University of Michigan, and visiting psychologist to the Flint, Michigan Public Schools. He was the adviser to RIC's Kappa Delta Phi fraternity.

A 1941 graduate of Johnson C. Smith University in North Carolina, he received his master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1947 and his Ph.D. in 1950.

Dr. Lillian D. Bloom, Associate Professor of English at the College, wrote this tribute for use in a special memorial issue of the Anchor:

On the first day of the New Year my friend Robert Amos died. His death was swift and without any apparent pain — the easiest of all possible deaths and yet the loneliest. Paradoxically, his loneliness embraced only a breath-holding, time-suspended moment. Mine endures and will endure as long as loneliness can be measured by the ticking of the clock.

Robert Amos was so vital, so compassionate a man that I find it difficult to write of him in the past tense. The tense itself connotes that which is over, finished, done with. But only grammatically is Robert Amos of the past. I shall not — because I cannot — place him in the context of death. It is as foreign to the substance of the man as shadow is to sunlight.

I met Robert Amos on my first teaching day at Rhode Island College. It was a prickly, uneasy time for me, a time of self-doubt and uncertainty. Sensing this, Robert Amos sauntered over. His voice was casual, even lazy, with its typically wholesome sneer. "Professor," he said, "I'm Amos." I didn't feel very professorial then, and I don't today. But from then on, for seven years, I was always "the Professor;" he always "Amos." Strange, isn't it, that our reference to each other, so seemingly brusque and impersonal, should have helped to sustain a friendship which is not yet over?

A friend is to be enjoyed. And I enjoyed Amos. I enjoyed sitting between him and my husband at football games. Amos relished football with a passionate intensity. And that which he relished he wanted to share with others. So he would explain intricate plays to me. And always with infinite patience, unwilling to admit to himself or at least to me that in the presence of complex football maneuvers I was incorrigibly dim-witted. I still don't understand football and I probably never will; but I understand the instinctive generosity and kindness of Amos.

I enjoyed the profound honesty of Robert Amos. It was so consistent an honesty, embracing details small and trivial and yet pursuing unanswerable metaphysical truths. Amos clung to his southern accent; he wore it like a badge. For to alter it, he claimed, would be a repudiation of that heritage which caused him suffering even as it gave him nobility and the strength to endure.

Amos hated phoniness in all its uneasy, distorted images. He hated religious hypocrisy when it sought to impose its rigidity on others. He hated false social gentility when it parasitically flowered upon another's humiliation. He hated fraudulent intellectuality when it searched not for truth but for the expansion of ego. Above all else, he hated man's greed for power when it persecuted and forced compliance at the expense of individual integrity. Amos was a magnificent hater; and in that passion of negation he expressed his positive love for creativity, whether of man or of God.

I enjoyed Amos' robustness, his virile regard for good-looking people, for attractive clothes, for martinis so cold they frosted the glass. He was at his best in the middle of a large and crowded party. Then, gregarious and sociable, he was able to lose himself in the sophisticated, impersonal conversation that flowed about him. Then he astonished with his capacity for good talk, with his vast gift of sympathy, with his earthy good taste.

I enjoyed his ability to cuss out a gadget civilization when the gimmicks wheezed and stalled and whined to a mechanical death. Rarely profane and certainly never blasphemous, he could yet address a flat time or a stalled car motor with a verbal rage that approached the gift of tongues. In many ways Amos was a Don Quixote tilting at a world's ornerness.

And I enjoyed his laughter, a courageous laughter that repressed gaiety even as it bespoke a moral earnestness. Amos did not laugh easily or lightly. Laughter to him was too serious, too philosophically real, to be wasted on the merely comic. Through laughter he derived the satiric insight to reduce to proper punines human insensitivity which victimized and mangled. Laughter was for Amos a form of militant prayer, making clear that ultimately evil must fall before an impregnable spiritual goodness.

But most of all I enjoyed my friend's capacity to love. His was not a sticky, sentimental emotion that demanded audience and tribute, that cloyed before it satisfied. In Amos love was an intellectual power which revealed itself in a witty tenderness to students, in a critical loyalty to colleagues. Never forgetting his background or the needs of his people, Amos built his world at Rhode Island College. And that world he animated by his zestful participation, his humor and his knowledge.

For one who liked the deliberate, even the ceremonious farewell, he left altogether too abruptly. But he had a long way to go this time and he could not wait to say goodbye. That is about as close as Amos ever came to being discourteous.
ASSOCIATION ACTIVITIES...

1963 Fund Drive
Set For Success

Dr. James P. Adams, former chairman of the Board of Trustees of State Colleges, exhorted the alumni of RIC to give generously and work diligently in order that the 1963 Alumni Fund might be a significant milestone in the history of alumni service to Rhode Island College.

Dr. Adams addressed an assembly of sixty fund workers at the Kickoff meeting January 22 at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre, Roberts Hall.

Fund Chairman Albert Mink presided at the launching meeting, and introduced a succession of speakers, including Dr. Fred J. Donovan, Vice President of the College, Alumni President Donald Driscoll, Alumni Trustee Catherine L. Casserly, Alumni Secretary Mary G. Davey, and Special Gifts Chairman Mary T. Thorp.

The Drive, which will continue through March 15, has a monetary goal of $10,000 and a participation goal of 35%. 483 different workers are involved in the Fund Drive organization, including group chairmen, responsible for several classes, class captains for each class, and contact people within each class.

Class Captains are: Edward Rondeau '62, Elizabeth Davis '61, Joseph Aguiar '60, Donald Babbitt '59, Robert Berlam '58, J. Arthur Bergeron '57, Mrs. Rob Mason (Marilyn Smith) '56, David H. McCarthy '55, Aaron F. DeMoranville, Jr. '54, Mrs. Henry (Lucille Bilodeau) Sherlock '53, Walter Littlefield '52, Mrs. Walter (Patricia Macomber) Littlefield '51, Mrs. John (Patricia McCarthy) Flori '50, Madelyn Goodwin '49, Delores Cianci '48, Claire Beirne '47, Marie Kelley '46, Mrs. James (Eileen Barry) Duffy '45, Arnold Durrell '44, Mrs. Leo (Louise Hurley) Dolan '43, Mrs. Dante (Leonora Caporelli) Aiello '42, Americo DiNanni '40, Irene McKenna '39, Mrs. John (Frances Coffey) McKeon '38, Mary A. Powers '37, Mrs. John (Helen King) Cavanaugh '36, Eleanor Molloy '35, Anna Carlone '34, Mrs. John (Catherine Glynn) Mowry '33, Helen Conway '32, Mrs. Peter F. (Mary McNulty) Harrington '31, Mrs. Peter (Alma Bishop) Doley '30, Rosemary Dunn '29, Mary A. Lynch '28, Mrs. Clement (Agnes Sullivan) Grimes '27, Mrs. John F. (Mary Cashman) McElroy '26, Mrs. Clifford (Eleanor Reilly) Webster '25, Helen Cooper '14, Helen O'Brien '13, Mollie Flanagan '12, Mrs. Oliver (Helen Banigan) Gauvin '11, and Mrs. David (Mary Costello) Joyce '41.

The Steering Committee of the 1963 Alumni Fund Drive assembled for a conference before the Kickoff Meeting.

Seated left to right are Group Chairmen Frances Palumbo, Carolyn Magnatta Marzilli, Mary Beagan, Jennie Majka, Olga Lusi O'Brien, and Alumni Secretary Mary Davey. Standing are Alumni President Donald Driscoll, Drive Chairman Al Mink and Group Chairman Betty Canning.

WESTERLY CLUB NEWS

Mrs. Peter DePerry, a member of the staff at Munro, Inc., Florists, was guest speaker at the December meeting of the Rhode Island College Alumni, Westerly Club, held December 6 at the Greenhaven Inn.

Miss Mary Ellis, president of the club, conducted the business session during which it was voted to send the usual donation to Mrs. Eleanor Wohner for gifts for the Rhode Island State Wards. Members of the club confined by illness will be remembered.

The meeting was in charge of teachers at State Street School with Miss Agnes King, principal, chairman of arrangements. Mrs. George Oates created the dainty favors presented each member.

TRUSTEE ELECTION SLATED

Rhode Island College Alumni will exercise their triennial privilege of electing a member to the Board of Trustees of State Colleges at the Annual Meeting June 1.

The membership committee warns that only alumni whose dues are paid as of April 1, 1963, will be eligible to receive ballots.

(If you have not paid your $2.00 within the past year, cut out and return this slip with your payment:)

MEMBERSHIP, 1962

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Address</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

7
REFERENDUM FOR COLLEGE BOND ISSUES APPROVED

The projected health and physical education center for Rhode Island College is now on the drawing boards thanks to the affirmative vote of the people of Rhode Island at the November 6 election. The voters, by a majority of 120,737 to 53,426, affirmed their confidence in the program of the College by authorizing the issuance of bonds for the construction of the new health center and a classroom building and the purchase of additional lands.

The second issue which concerned the College was also passed. The Board of Trustees of State Colleges was authorized to borrow up to $20,000,000 during a 10-year period for the construction of self-liquidating buildings such as dormitories and dining facilities.

One of the more dramatic moments in the referendum campaign came on a Sunday afternoon in October when students of Rhode Island College and students of the University of Rhode Island ran from their respective campuses to the State House in Providence bearing the flaming torch of learning. In the picture the runners of the final lap of the relay — Jack Wheeler of Rhode Island College and Ernie Drew of the University of Rhode Island watch while their respective Student Senate Presidents John Hines (left) of Rhode Island College and Stephen Rosenberg (right) of the University of Rhode Island present the torches to Raymond Hawksley, Rhode Island State Treasurer, who represented the Governor on this occasion.

ANNUAL BRIDGE TO FEATURE SPRING FASHION REVUE

The annual alumni card party will feature several innovations this year.

The Spring Eve date, March 20, is a departure from the midwinter time usually favored. The hour and day are a change from the traditional Saturday afternoon to a mid-week evening. This is the first time the Donovan Dining Center is being used for an alumni activity and it is expected to add a touch of glamor to the evening. And the fashion show of spring apparel is a return after several years, of this “extra added attraction”.

Ann McSherry McLaughlin ’52 (Mrs. Edward A.) is chairman of the general committee. She is being assisted by Helen Page Gilligan ’47 (Mrs. James), promotion, Elena Calabro Leonelli ’42 (Mrs. Renato), Special Feature, Frances Gallogly Mason ’52 (Mrs. Phillip), Prizes and Tickets, and Dr. Catherine M. Casserly, Hospitality.

This year’s Bridge is being promoted through an intensive program of personal contact. A conscientious attempt is being made by the promotion committee to reach a very large number of alumni to urge their attendance. Alumni who plan to attend the Bridge whether they receive a telephone call or not may obtain tickets for the March 20 Party by calling the Alumni Office (TE 1-6602), Chairman Ann McLaughlin (ST 1-7650), or Promotion Chairman Helen Gilligan (PA 5-4136).

You are invited to the Annual Bridge and Spring Fashion Review to be held at the DONOVAN DINING CENTER WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1963 AT 7:30 P.M. sponsored by The Alumni in cooperation with ADMISSION $1.25 (NO OTHER NOTICE WILL BE SENT! WRITE THIS ON YOUR CALENDAR NOW!)
A light moment during Dr. Frank Greene's presentation is appreciated by Msgr. Cassidy, Dr. Gaige, Dr. Donovan and Governor Notte.

The dedication ceremony was followed by a reception on the balcony and a buffet luncheon on the main floor.

Homecoming Day, October 20, was highlighted by the dedication of the Fred J. Donovan Dining Center. A large Assembly of alumni, faculty, students, friends of Dr. Donovan, trustees, architects and contractors, were present for the simple but impressive ceremonies.

The Dedication was conducted by Dr. William Gaige, with George Kelsey, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of State Colleges, making the dedication. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas V. Cassidy, former superintendent of Schools of the Diocese of Providence, gave the invocation, Governor John A. Notte spoke for the people of the State, Alumni President Donald Driscoll spoke for the alumni and students of the College, and Dr. Frank E. Greene, Professor of English, spoke for the faculty and friends of Dr. Donovan. Ralph Lamborghini represented Lamborghini, Christoph, and Pipka, Architects, who designed the building, and Joseph Famigletti represented the Hope Building Company, which was in charge of construction.

The eventful day closed with a Reception and Ball at the Metacomet Golf Club. An honor dance was the feature of the evening, introducing Dr. and Mrs. Donovan, the homecoming queen, alumni and student leaders, and alumni class presidents.

During the afternoon the students held a parade, followed by the crowning of the homecoming queen and entertainment by the Warren Indian Band. The traditional alumni-student soccer game was won by the alumni, 1 to 0.

First in line to offer their congratulations to Dr. Donovan and Mrs. Donovan are three of his "boys", Donald Lyons '54, Everett Maxwell '57, and Ed Travers '51.

Pausing between halves of the Homecoming Game between the alumni and students are: Vito Campo '53, Mike Iacona '62, Tony Mancini '62, Tom Drury '60, Everett Maxwell '57, David Moore '59, and Professor Bob Brown.
MISS MILDRED E. BASSETT

Mildred E. Bassett, retired Associate Professor of History, died December 16, 1962, after an extended illness. She had served on the faculty of the College for twenty-six years.

Professor Bassett joined the Rhode Island College of Education faculty in 1923, and, except for a two-year period at New Haven State Normal School, remained on the staff until illness forced her to resign in 1934. An autopsy following her death indicated that death was caused by a brain tumor, with indications that this incipient condition may have been responsible for the recurring difficulties that beset her during the later part of her teaching career.

A 1917 graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, Miss Bassett held an A.M. from Brown University and had undertaken advanced studies at Teachers College, Columbia. She was active in the national, regional, and state organizations in the field of social studies. She was especially concerned with Rhode Island History and was active in the R.I. Historical Society. One of the founders of the Western R. I. Civic Historical Society, she had edited two collections of papers published by that group.

PLACEMENT SERVICE

The 1963 RIC faculty positions open have been released. Alumni are invited to send inquiries and applications to Dr. Charles B. Willard, Dean, or to the Placement Service at the Alumni Office.

Faculty needed include: Assistant Dean in Charge of Professional Studies, College Counselor, English (5), Modern Language (1), Music (1), Art (1), Laboratory School (7), Biology (3), Mathematics (2), Chemistry (1), Physics or Chemistry (1), Professional Orientation (1), Elementary Education (2), Psychology (2), Physical Education (3), Industrial Arts (1), History (4), Political Science (1), Economics (1) and Social Science Education (1).

Alumni Secretary Mary G. Davey is now in charge of placement at the College. Alumni are extended their annual invitation to take advantage of this Service.

Have You Mailed YOUR CONTRIBUTION
To The 1963 Alumni Fund?
Hilda Ward Smith teaches fifth and sixth grades at St. Martin's Episcopal Parish Day School in Pawtucket.

Jennie Hall Palmer (Mrs. Earl S.) of East Greenwich is in Sarasota, Florida, from November to May each year. She has eleven grandchildren and hopes to do some recruiting for Rhode Island College from the group.

1921

Mabel A. Crowe and Gertrude Grove Crosby are both retired and now living on Hemlock Avenue, Point Judith.

1922

Marguerite Murray Coleman is in the field of Special Education, teaching a Primary Educable Group at Grove Avenue School in East Providence. She is also a volunteer at the R. I. Medical Center as a member of the R. I. Association of Mental Health.

Gladys Sullivan Frappier (Mrs. Joseph) lives in Providence where her husband is Census Supervisor for the School Department. Her son, Robert, is a 1957 graduate of Rhode Island College with a Master's Degree in 1962. He lives in Harmony, and is a guidance teacher at George J. West Junior High in Providence.

Ann Callanan Manning (Mrs. Charles) of Cranston shares honors with Marguerite Barry McKivigan (Mrs. James), in that they are grandparents to the same three children, Barry, Paul, and Ellen McKivigan.

1923

Jessie Molaskey is serving as teacher-librarian and teacher of library science at Guiteras Memorial Junior High School, Bristol.

1924

Marie Cahir Gilbride (Mrs. Joseph P.), is Supervisor of Elementary Schools in Warwick where she lives. She is also the new Rhode Island member of the Board of the New England Reading Association.

Blanche Corrigan is in guidance work at Central Falls Junior High School and is active in Delta Kappa Gamma.

B. Ruby Winnestorm teaches in North Providence where she lives.

1928

Dorothy Mangan teaches Home Economics at Tolman High School in Pawtucket.

Elizabeth Maokler Horan (Mrs. Cornelius) is teaching at Stephen Olney School, North Providence.

1929

Catherine Hill Boyle (Mrs. William) lives in Pawtucket and is principal of Goff Junior High.

L. Leonard Girondard (M. Ed.) lives in Pawtucket and is principal of Goff Junior High.

F. Ethel Walsh is Social Arts Coordinator at Oliver Hazard Perry Junior High in Providence. She lives in Riverside.

Twenty-one members of the January Class of 1929 attended the Annual Reunion Dinner on Friday, October 19, 1962, at the Admiral Inn, in Cumberland at 6:30 P. M. Alice M. Ebrell, Chairman, and Agnes Sullivan Grimes, (Mrs. J. Clement), Treasurer, arranged the party.

1930

Elia Williams Greene (Mrs. Frank E.) is Residence Director at Mary Thorp Hall at the College.

Dorothy Danielson is in the Business Department at John F. Deering High School in West Warwick, Rhode Island.

Mae Gilpatrick Godfrey (Mrs. John E.) is Supervising Principal at Pleasant Street Elementary School in Seekonk. She is serving as Scholarship Chairman of the Teachers Association.

1931

Catherine Dooley teaches at Wilson School in Rumford.

Edith Johnson Morrow's daughter is a graduate of the Newport Hospital School of Nursing and was married last August to Lt. Robert Van Dien, a King's Point Academy graduate.

Esther Grossman lives in Providence where she is a fourth grade classroom teacher.

1932

Leda Ciasullo Nolan, a teacher at Mary E. Fogarty School, Providence, has a daughter starting at Classical High School this year.

Lillian Shaw is a remedial reading teacher in Pawtucket where she lives.

Margaret M. Shea a teacher in the Newport Schools since 1936 and chairman of the social studies department at Thompson Junior High School since 1960, has written a text, The Story of Colonial Newport. A 27-page book for use at the Junior High level, it covers the material in seven chapters with four maps. Miss Shea's purpose in writing the book was to provide a readable and inexpensive text for her pupils, complete with historical facts and lively details to make it especially interesting to youngsters.

Corinne Carroll is a School Psychologist in the Providence Schools while Grace Carroll is a Speech Correction Teacher in the same system.

1933

Frances M. Lynch is principal of Camden Avenue and Smith Street Schools in Providence.

1934

Class Notes Secretary: Dorothy Byron Martin

Marion Clark who lives in Providence is teaching the third grade at Laurel Hill Avenue School.

Helen Dronie Donnelly, whose husband Edward F. (Ed.B. '33, Ed.M. '38) is Supervisor of Audio-Visual Education in the Providence Public Schools, is the mother of nine children. Her daughter, Ellen, is a member of the Class of '63.

Rose Kleinman is a teacher of fourth grade pupils at Laurel Hill Avenue School and is residing in Providence.

Ann-Marie Shea McGurn, who is presently residing in Santa Barbara, California, is teaching fifth grade in the Goleta Union School. She is the mother of two sons.

Louise Bolid O'Mara, who recently completed a graduate fellowship at Rhode Island College, is a teacher of the educable retarded in the Cranston School System. She is currently serving as Vice-President of The Rhode Island Association For Teachers of Mentally Retarded Children.

Hazel Samis Stafford, who is living in Wakefield, R. I., is now teaching a kindergarten class in Jamestown. Her daughter Eileen, now married, is living in Honolulu, Hawaii and is taking courses in the Dental Technician School there.

Gertrude Kimball Boulton (Mrs. Everett F.) has been teaching at Hope Elementary School, Scituate, since 1936. Her daughter, Beverly Ann, was married last April.

1935

Helen M. Carr (Mrs. Paul McNeil) is the proud mother of three children.

1936

Emma Aiello Fabrizio (Mrs. Dante) mother of one daughter, is a third grade teacher in Warwick, She has served as president of the Randall Holden P.T.A. in Warwick and is currently serving as President of Saint Timothy's Catholic Women's Club.

Norma Gene Goldman (Mrs. Leonard Y.) lives in Providence where her husband is president of the New England Pest Control Co. She has three children and enjoys golf, bowling, and swimming, and belongs to a water ballet group, "The Nerieds". One of her daughters is a senior at Pembroke, while another daughter and a son are at Henry Barnard.

M. Louise Bailey Grant is a cooperating teacher in Grades 1 and 2 for the City of Warwick and R. I. College. Her son attends the University of Rhode Island.

With this issue we welcome the assistance of ten Class Notes Secretaries who have assumed responsibility for gathering and editing news about members of their respective classes. Volunteers are needed to serve other classes. If you are interested, call the Alumni Office (TE 1-6602) for details.
Mary Dorothea Kane Murray (Mrs. Charles) lives in Pawtucket and teaches first grade at Reservoir Avenue School in Providence. She has two children and her husband is Assistant Manager of Johnson Motor Lines.

Carrie Salisbury Tower (Mrs. Wallace) is Teaching Principal at the Chepachet School, in Glocester, Rhode Island.

1937

Agnes Ruttigian Gorman (Mrs. William) lives in Lincoln and teaches Educable Retarded Children at Windmill Street School in Providence.

Mary A. Powers led the first council-wide Girl Scout Sing this fall at the Temple of Music in Roger Williams Temple of Music in Roger Williams Park. Mary has held many positions in the Girl Scout Organization during the past 27 years and is currently a volunteer trainer and a member of the council’s personnel committee. A cooperating teacher with R.I.C. students at Laurel Hill Avenue School in Providence, Mary went to England in 1960 to take a position as program director at Camp Mohawk in Tisbury, England, for daughters of Air Force Personnel.

1938

Walter Siewicki lives in Cranston and is Probation and Parole Administrator for the State of Rhode Island.

1938

Vivian Morrill Sproul (Mrs. Richard) is living in Weeks Mills, Maine. She is teaching a first grade in nearby North Vassalboro and is serving as public relations chairman for the China-Vassalboro Teacher’s Club.

1939

Class Notes Secretary: Elda Petrucci Coppa.

Dr. Norman E. Green has been named Associate Professor of Sociology and Director of Institutional Research at the College. Green is retiring as Lt. Colonel in the Air Force after twenty years service. Most recently he has served as Director of the Operational Applications Laboratory, conducting research in the behavioral sciences areas in man-machine systems design, development, integration, performance evaluation and testing.

Norm earned his M.A. in psychology at Columbia University, and his Ph.D. in sociology at the University of North Carolina. He taught briefly before joining the armed services and is currently teaching evening courses in sociology at Boston University.

His duties at R.I.C. will include research and projection in the areas of student personnel, campus development, and curriculum planning.

The Greens have three children, ages 9, 11, and 16.

Candida Belanger Murphy (Mrs. H. LeRoy) is living in Southbridge, Mass., and teaching third grade there.

Gertrude Padien Cushing (Mrs. Raymond) received her M.Ed. from Boston University in 1962. She is chairman of the business department and a counselor at Cranston West High School.

Frances Jones McIntyre is teaching fourth grade in Ashton, R.I.

Louise B. Smith enjoyed a trip to Madison, Wisconsin last summer. Louise is a fourth grade teacher in Hope Valley, R.I.

Margaret Holden (Ex-39), law librarian for the Supreme Court of the State of Hawaii, was home in North Providence recently where she presented a clock, in memory of her parents, to the Union Free Library.

Pauline La Gireaux Boucher (Mrs. Reginald) lives in Pawtucket where her husband is a physician. She has two sons, one a senior and one a freshman in high school.

Syd Cohen lives in Cranston and teaches English at Charis Regional High School.

Edith Sonkin Gordon (Mrs. Albert) has four children and lives in Providence where her husband is president of Clifford Metal Sales Co.

Kay Helgesen lives in Newport and teaches sixth grade at Melville School in Portsmouth.

Josephine Sambor Lamanski lives in College Park, Maryland, and teaches math at Northwestern High School in Hyattsville and is part-time instructor of Basic Math at Maryland University.

Captain Dan and Barbara (Marshall) Mooney are living in North Springfield, Virginia, where they have two sons in high school and one girl in the sixth grade. Barbara is teaching ninth grade math.

1941

Olice Weeden Christmann of East Providence spent several days last summer visiting Amelia Wargoski Taylor in Rutland, Vermont. They attended the International Girl Scout Roundup in Button Woods.

Ellen Bliven Montgomery (Mrs. Thomas A.) lives in New Orleans where her husband is Assistant Professor of Spanish at Tulane University. She has two children, and prior to her move to Louisiana four years ago, lived in Spain, Kansas, New York, and Wisconsin.

Michael A. Morry lives in Warwick where he is principal of Pilgrim High School.

1942

Frank A. Carter, Jr. and Mrs. Carter were guests of honor at the Christmas party held by the Alumni Board at The Chalet, North Providence, December 15. The newly-appointed Director of the Department of Employment Security was presented a set of R.I.C. bi-ball glasses as a token of alumni pride in his accomplishment.

Always a striving and active supporter of alumni activities, Frank has been responsible for initiating several events that have become traditional in the alumni program, including the annual ball and the sports supper.

Since his graduation from R.I.C. Frank has had a busy and eventful career. He taught junior high school science and served as principal of Community School, later, of Lincoln Memorial School, in Lincoln. Meanwhile he earned a masters’ degree from R.I.C. and a law degree from B.C.

His political career began when he served as chairman of the Lincoln charter commission in 1957 and 1958; and he became a member and latter chairman of the Republican town committee. He had served twice as moderator of the town meeting before he was elected town administrator in 1961.

His appointment by Governor Chafee to the D.E.S. post presents another of the many challenges faced over the years by the hard-working educator-lawyer-politician.

Jacqueline Gadapter is working on the Materials Staff of a Modern Language Project in Boston, she lives in Woonsocket.

Bill MacDougald lives in San Rafael, California.

Dr. Larry McGuire is completing his fifth year of service as superintendent in Plainfield, Connecticut. He is presently helping to plan a new 1,000 pupil elementary school for the town’s children, where the school age population has increased by half since 1958. When this construction is completed it will be the second new school in five years. Prior to 1956 more than 35 years had elapsed since any school construction in the town.

Colette Eemin Powers (Mrs. James) lives in Turner Falls, Massachusetts, and is a teaching principal at Montague Center School.

Elizabeth A. Quinn is assistant principal and teacher of science at Saxa Junior High School, New Canaan, Connecticut.

Dr. Lefzki McPaintly has been teaching second grade in Central Falls for five years. She has three children and lives in Providence.

Annetae Archambault Carpenter lives in Belmont, Massachusetts, and is a math teacher in Newton, Massachusetts.

Regina Dureluna Villamone now lives in Glen Ridge, New Jersey. She is now teaching second grade.

Eileen Quimc Baldwin is now teaching grade 5 in Coventry, Rhode Island.

Gladys Callenar Monarcher and her husband adopted a daughter, Kristen, in October of 1962. This now gives them three boys and one girl. Gladys also has a new address: 40 Alhambra Circle, Cranston 5.

Ruth Morrissey Kessler is in the Purchase and Sales Department of DeCoppet and Doremus, Wall Street, N.Y.C. Her husband is supervisor for the same firm.

NOTE

Will anyone interested in working on the ‘43 reunion please contact Beatrice Feinstein, 23 Sarah Street, Providence, RI 02914.
Mary Mignon Cameron (Mrs. Thomas) lives in Inglewood, California, and is a third grade teacher in the Los Angeles City Schools.

Mildred Dunbrach Centore (Mrs. Antonio) is currently on a year’s leave of absence from Park View Junior High in Cranston. Her husband is an Football Coach at Cranston High West.

Constance Mills Drew (Mrs. Harrison) lives in Hyannis, Massachusetts and has four children.

Edward R. Silva is now living at 69 Columbus Road, Swansea, Mass. He is assistant principal at Case High School, Swansea, Mass.

Barbara Dufrene Rhodes has returned to teaching in the second grade at Pinecrest School, Woonsocket.

Margaret Martin Phillips lives in Tapanga, California. She received a M. Ed. from U. C. L. A. in 1956.

Catherine Brelsford Bardick (Mrs. Stanley) lives in Hamilton, Ohio and is part time camp director at Woodland Day Camp. Cathy has two sons and a daughter.

Gloria Dobson DeNault has moved from New York to 1719 Bramsey Drive, Clarkson, Ontario, Canada.

Barbara Jackson lives in Providence and is kindergarten teacher in Cranston.

Margaret Beattie Jung (Mrs. Gerald A.) is living in Morgantown, West Virginia, and is a substitute teacher in the Monongalia County Schools.

Julia Rogers attended the N. E. A. Convention in Denver last summer and at its adjournment traveled to the Seattle World’s Fair. Julia is a first grade teacher at Washington Primary School in Coventry.

Jane Redfern teaches fourth grade at Navitt School in Barrington, R.I.

Albert E. Mink has been named principal of the Samuel W. Bridham Junior High School, Providence. He is also chairman of the 1963 Alumni Fund Drive.

Mary Molloy Borri (Mrs. Richard) is the mother of Todd, Karla, 4, Susan, 2, and R. Steven, 8 months. Her husband is secretary-treasurer of the Trans-Com Electricians Corporation in Newport, R. I.

Helen Robertson Tidgewell (Mrs. Henry) has started to do substitute teaching in Hampton, N.H., now that her son, Mark, is in the first grade.

Doris Greenhalgh Anderson (Mrs. Aloe) is a reading consultant teacher for San Jose State College, California.

Lillian Connelly DeGurie (Mrs. John) has three children and lives in Edgewood. Her husband is a teacher.

Barbara Goodman Livington is a kindergarten teacher in East Providence, lives in Seekonk, Masschusetts.

Mary T. McCauley has completed a year of graduate work in math in San Diego, California, under a National Science Foundation Grant. After traveling through Europe last summer, she returned to her position as head of the Mathematics Department at Dedham (Massachusetts) Junior High School.

Barbara Spaight Robillard (Mrs. Richard) is living in Montreal where her husband is on the faculty at the University of Montreal. He had previously been at Loyola University. They have two children.

John P. Russell is an instructor at Johnson & Wales Business School.

Class Notes Secretary: Virginia Gregory Belanger.

Robert Coelho has been appointed acting principal of the new Cyril K. Brennan Junior High School in Attleboro, Mass. Bob, who lives in Pawtucket, has been a teacher in the Attleboro School System since 1955.

Vincent Cullen is spending a year studying at Wesleyan University in Connecticut on a National Science Foundation Grant.

Rhoda Spencer Curtis is presently living in North Scituate, R. I. and is busy with her two children, Deborah, 3 and Shannon, 1. Shannon is a teacher and expects to receive his Ed. M. from R.I.C. in June if all goes well.

L. and Mrs. (Jane Whitehead) Raymon J. Hart, are now living in Bayonne, New Jersey. Ray is presently stationed on the U.S.S. Thaddeus at Port Newark, New Jersey.

Eileen Ryan Monopoli has moved to Storrs, Connecticut, where husband Dick is working and studying at the University of Connecticut.

Class Notes Secretary: Ann Sheehan Depiro.

Kathryn Humphry Iwee (Mrs. Edward W.) is teaching seventh grade math and science at the Bernard F. Norton School in Cumberland. Her husband, who is employed by the Minn. and Honeywell Co., is working in the advertising field. They reside in Pawtucket with their daughter Michelle.

Raymond Vallely received his Master’s Degree from R.I.C. last June. He and his family have recently moved into their new home in Arnold Mills, Cumberland, R. I.

Helen F. Hoard is teaching sixth grade in Woonsocket. She toured the far western U.S. this past summer. Among the high spots in her trip were her stay in Las Vegas and her visit to The World’s Fair.

Marily Matsumoto Bellemore (Mrs. Norman I.) has a one-year leave of absence from the North Providence School System. She taught elementary classes there from the time of graduation until the birth of her son Fred Anthony, last May. Since graduation she has toured extensively in the United States. She and her family are living in Smithfield, R. I.

Cynthia Kelley Scholman (Mrs. John) is living in South Burlington, Vermont where her husband is serving his residency. They have two daughters.

Lillian Azar Solomon (Mrs. Solomon A.) is living in East Providence. Her husband owns and manages the Six Corners Department Store and Six Corners Tailors & Cleaners. They have two children.

Alberta M. Sepe is a sixth grade teacher in Cranston. This past summer she spent two months touring eleven European countries.
Barbara Ann West is teaching English and social studies at Lincoln Junior High School. For the past three years she has been Director of Dramatics there. She has been an active member and an officer in several organizations including the Lincoln P.T.A., the Lincoln Teachers' Association, and the Pawtucket Community Players.

Helen F. McGovern has completed work on her master's degree which is to be awarded in June 1963 from the University of Conn. She is teaching English and social studies at Scituate Junior-Senior High School.

Mary L. Gardner, formerly of Westerly, is teaching in Barrington this year after a year's experience in Morocco. The Rev. Benjamin T. Winsor was ordained a Priest of the Protestant Episcopal Church on December 22 at the Cathedral of St. John, Providence. For the past year he has been serving as a curate at Grace Church, Providence.

Marie Okerblom Mello is now living in Chicago, Illinois. 1938

Victoria Mangione and Marguerite Peterson recently visited Italy, France, Greece and Portugal.

Beverly Colby Moody (Mrs. Stewart) has one son and teaches third grade at Prospect Street School in Pawtucket. Her husband labored by General Motors in Framingham, recently graduated from the National School of Aeronautics in Kansas City, Missouri.

Mary Cardo0 MacNeil (Mrs. Gerald) has moved to Lexington, Massachusetts, after teaching in Giessen, Germany during the last school year. Her husband is a Mechanical Engineer at M.I.T. Instrumentation Laboratory.

Gail McCaughhey Scott (Mrs. Robert J.) has three daughters and lives in Lincoln where she does substitute teaching.

Dorothy Frey Vacek (Mrs. Arthur) taught for one year following graduation. She now is at home in North Providence with her two daughters.

Mary Fox Madigan (Mrs. William) lives in Newport where she teaches fifth grade.

Mary Pat Welch is associated with the J.W. Riker Real Estate Office as a real estate saleswoman. Mary Pat's territory includes Lincoln, Cumberland, Pawtucket, East Providence, and Barrington. She resigned from the Lincoln School System in June, 1962.

Jacqueline Lavalliere Dufrene is living in Londonderry, N.Y., where her husband is a Product Development Engineer. They have two daughters, Diane, 2, and Denise, born in November.

Maureen Kenney Lennon (Mrs. Paul) has a new address: 2520 Skinner Drive, Redstone Arsenal, Alabama. 1959

Gerald Bourgeois, a social studies and math teacher at Westerly Junior High, has been elected President of the Westerly Teachers Association.

Arline Kiven (Mrs. Nathan) has been re-elected to the Rhode Island House of Representatives. She is currently studying for a Master's Degree in History at Brown.

Joseph Carnes lives in North Providence and is a chemistry teacher in Portsmouth, R. I. Junior and Senior High Schools. He has attended a National Science Foundation Summer Institute at Brown. His wife, Ruth (Oberg), teaches at the U. S. Naval Base in Portsmouth.

Anita LeClaire Conron (Mrs. William) has a son, William Edward Conron III, who was born May 26th. The Conrons live in Lansdowne, Pennsylvania.

Virginia Goodwin last year teaching in the Army Dependents School at Kaiserslautern, Germany. Virginia reports that Joanna Doyle is spending her second year teaching at Idor Oberstein, also in Germany.

Irene Surovici Jacey (Mrs. Michael) received her M. Ed. from Boston University last June and is teaching at the Gales Ferry School in Connecticut. Her husband is a biochemist at the U. S. Medical Research Laboratory.

Janice Wade Richmond is soloist and Choir director at Geohe Congregational Church in Woonsocket. Her brother, Alfred, is a member of the freshman class at R.I.C.

Corina Vitale is Research Assistant in the U.S. Office of Education in Washington in the research concerned with the education of exceptional children and youth. She lives in Mount Rainier, Maryland.

Margaret Kenyon Young (Mrs. Fred N.) lives in Greenwich and her husband is a teacher. They will be returning to the states in June and hope to travel to Europe this summer. Their daughter, Catherine Claire, was born last March 9th.

Mary E. Lowe, Nurse-Teacher in Central Falls, toured Europe with the R. I. E. A. Group in the summer of 1962.

Alice Corrigan Reinhardt (Mrs. Frederick) is living in West Lafayette, Indiana, where her husband has a research assistantship in Traffic Engineering at Purdue. Alice is a member of the Purdue Graduate Dames Club.

1960

Class Notes Secretary: Diane McDonald Maxwell.

Linda N. Spacagna is teaching first grade at Birkshire Street School.

Joanne R. Ouellette who is teaching math and science at Mount Pleasant High School will spend next summer working on research.

Louis A. Grossi who is living in North Providence is teaching remedial reading in the Westerly School Dept.

Debra DiCcola Donaldson, now residing at 508 Woodward Road, North Providence, R. I., is teaching English at North Providence High. She has recently returned to Rhode Island after living and teaching in State College, Penn. while her husband was completing his education at Penn. State University.

Brenda Wilkening Kline (Mrs. Arthur) taught at West Warwick School, Cranston until she retired to have her baby last February. Her husband is a hardware salesman.

The Tom Sweeney (Dorothy Simonson) have a new address: 13 Fourth St., West Barrington, R. I.

1961

Benita Blau has written and produced a program, "Nowhere U.S.A.", about Providence, which will be used on Channel 10 WJAR, February 18 at 10:30 p.m. and February 22 at 9:00 a.m.

Muriel Frenchette received her Master of Science Degree last June from the University of Rochester and worked at Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island during the summer. She has accepted a position as Health Physicist at Los Alamos, New Mexico, working for the Atomic Energy Commission, the first and only woman to be employed at Los Alamos in this field. New address: 3715 Gold Street, Los Alamos, New Mexico.

Daureen Durrell Aulenbach, (Mrs. Guenter) is on leave from the Providence School Department to be with her husband on duty in the Mediterranean area with the U.S.S. Forrestal.

Simone Bouquet Bacon (Mrs. Raymond) is doing substitute teaching in Woonsocket.

Barbara A. Chalupa is teaching a sixth grade at Joslin Park Elementary School in Providence.

Ann Marie Plantz is teaching at Woonsocket Junior High School.

Lt. Bruce Genereux graduated from Justice School, Newport, recently. He had finished O.S.C. October 26 and was married October 27.

Suzanne Saedee Ziemer is living at 1204 South Lincoln, Bloomington, Indiana.

Judith Stoyko Ayette (Mrs. Robert) is now living at 235 Park Avenue, Cornwall, N. Y. Daughter Elizabeth Ann is eight months old.

1962

Jeannine V. Cote, enrolled at the University of Bordeaux under a Fulbright Grant, is taking ten courses at the Faculte des Lettres. She is thoroughly enjoying her year in France, gaining a first-hand knowledge of the French people and their way of life.

Gayle F. Rovelles is teaching English at Keith Junior High School, New Bedford, Massachusetts.

Barbara MacMillan Berard (Mrs. Norbert) is an elementary teacher in Warwick.

Bill Borek is studying toward his Master's Degree in History at the University of Connecticut.

Lucinda Collici is teaching at James L. McGuire School, in North Providence.

Mary E. Crimmins, spent the summer as a participant in the N. E. D. A French Institute at the University of Maine, where she has been accepted for advanced study in French. She is teaching French in the elementary grades in North Kingston.

Matthew Clancy, is teaching Mathematics at the Harvard H. Ellis Technical School, Danisbolic, Connecticut.

Mary F. Herberg was the subject of an article in a September issue of the Providence Sunday Journal, on her return to teach at Charlestown Elementary School where she had been a student herself not so long ago.
WEDDINGS

1962

Janice C. Mace to James S. Kinder on December 29. At Home: Johnston.

Mary Lou Rekos to John J. Donnelly, Jr. on December 29. At Home: Long Beach, California.

Suzanne Roberge to Albert Choquette, Jr. on October 13, 1962. At Home: 493 South Main Street, Woonsocket, R. I.

Barbara M. McMillan to Norbert J. Berard, on August 18, 1962. At Home: 214 Warwick Avenue, Warwick, R. I.

Simone Bouquet to Raymond Bacon, on August 14, 1962. At Home: 216 Carnation Street, Woonsocket, R. I.

Jane E. Fontaine to Bruce Generex on October 27, 1962. At Home: 1060 Main Street, Pawtucket, R. I.

Andree Daigualt to Clarence Fusaro on December 1. At Home: 90 High Street, Westerly, R. I.

Joyce Hunt to Robert Miller on December 1, 1962. At Home: 1087 Mendon Road, Cumberland, R. I.

Marie A. McWeeny to George E. Kent, 3rd, on December 29. At Home: Providence, R. I.

1960

Brenda A. Hughes to James B. Myette on December 29. At Home: 12 Glenwood Avenue, Cranston, R. I.

Helyn Carpenter '63 to Franklin Peters on November 22, 1962. At Home: 27 Edna Street, Johnston, R. I.

1959

Emily C. Garvin to Lt. William N. Bailey, Jr. on August 11, 1962. At Home: 303 North Locus, Fort Bragg, N. C.

1943

Mary E. Rooney to John F. Lafferty, on December 27, 1962. At Home: 66 Rutherglen Avenue, Providence, R. I.

1961

To Mr. and Mrs. James F. Flyntz (Ann Dawson) a daughter, Rosemarie Ann, on August 2, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. William Ziemer (Suzanne Saunders) a son, William Karl, on June 1, 1962, in Bloomington, Ind.

1960

To Mr. and Mrs. Everett V. Maxwell '57 (Diane McDonald) their second child and first son, James McDonald, on August 29, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Burns (Joan Pinsonnault) a son, Dominic Philip, born September 25, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Aldo M. Cavallaro (Madeline Dunama) their first child, Laura Beth, born October 23, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prior (Betty Hopkins) their first child, John, on October 18, 1961.

To Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Crocker '59 (Joanne Reposa) their second son, Michael Joseph, on September 2, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans (Patricia Coughlin) their second child and first son, Kevin Robert, on November 29, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Barry Honan (Constance Chermis) their second daughter, Nancy Ann, in October 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edman (Barbara Purcell) their first child, a daughter, Sharyn Ann, on September 28, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DiNapoli (Sharon Army) their second child and first son, Dori Jean, on December 6, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. William Y. Chaiika (Elena Hill) a son, Daniel Edhan, on August 6, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Hysko (Eleanor Anderson) a daughter, Heather Ann, born April 1, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Andrews (Sally Hadfield) (61) their second daughter, Linda Ann, born October 22, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grant (Geraldine Croce) their second daughter, Susan Mary, on October 17, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sweeney (Dolores Simonson) their first child, a daughter, Donna Elaine, born November 20, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Paul Broughton (Jane Quinn) their first child, a son, Paul Lawrence, Jr., on April 23, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tally (Eleanor Neary) their first child, a daughter, Mary Ellen, on July 12, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Klene (Brenda Wilkening) a son, Steven Neal, on February 27, 1962.

1959

To Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Riley (Ellen Spencer) a son, Kevin Paul, on August 22, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. George Sahagian (Laura Richard) a son, Gregory Joseph, on January 2, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Reinhardt (Alice Corsair) a daughter, Kristen Jane, born May 12, 1962.

1958

To Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dufresne (Jacqueline Lavelle) a second daughter, Denise, on November 15, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tetreault, their second son, and fourth child, Francis Raymond, on May 5, 1962, in Farmington, Connecticut.

To Mr. and Mrs. John DeGiulio (Lillian E. Connelly) their third child, a son, on September 15, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. O’Neil (Katherine McLaughlin) their fifth child, a daughter, on November 12, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Caswell (Diane Cartier) their fourth child, and third son, Christopher William, on November 1, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Bucci, a son, Stephen Jonathan, on November 15, 1962.

1956

To Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DiNapoli (Patricia Donovan) their sixth child and fourth daughter, her first son, and fourth child, on January 20.

To Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carbonneau (Patricia Donovan) their sixth child and fourth daughter, Jane Marie, on November 16, 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Allan Morris '42 (Norma Grabtree) a son, Dean Walker in 1962.

To Mr. and Mrs. Vito L. Coppa (Elda Petrucci) their seventh child and fifth boy, on November 30, 1962.

To The Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin T. Winsor, a son, Brian Christopher, on December 13.

WE NOTE WITH REGRET THE PASSING OF:

Judith Mulligan Moore (Mrs. David) '60 of Cumberland, teacher and mother of three children, on November 15, 1962.

Helen T. Harrington '59, in Pawtucket, on December 28 after a long illness. She had taught in Pawtucket for one year and in Riverdale, Md., until February, 1962.

Joan Knooles Holme (Mrs. William) '51 of Cumberland, R. I.

Alice O'Conor Geoghegan (Mrs. John) '11, retired Providence teacher and mother of three R.I.C. graduates, on October 29, 1962.

Roberts V. S. Reed '26, suddenly in his North Kingston home. Formerly superintendent of schools in Stonington, Connecticut, and headmaster of high schools in Watertown, Massachusetts, he had retired in 1961 after fourteen years as superintendent of schools in Summit, New Jersey. He is survived by his wife, the former Gertrude Kenyon '26, and a son.
1963 Alumni Fund Drive

JANUARY 22 - MARCH 31

Have you made YOUR COMMITMENT to the 1963 Fund?

Send in your pledge envelope today!

STAND UP!
BE COUNTED!
GIVE!

MY PLEDGE

$ ................................... .

............................. Paid herewith

............................. Bill me

Class ...........................

Name ..........................

Address ........................

..................................

RHODE ISLAND COLLEGE
ALUMNI NEWS