The socially responsible T-shirt

AS220's Broad Street Studio recently held a "T-Shirt Release Party," featuring shirts made by the young people who are involved in the studio's programs. It was noted, "All proceeds go to supporting youth and programming at Broad Street Studio. As young people and artists, we recognize the cycle of exploitation oppressing people around the world: from the streets of Rhode Island to the sweatshops of Indonesia. Therefore, we work to ensure all of our products are manufactured under fair conditions. All of our shirts are made in guaranteed sweatshop-free environments and printed by local screen printers."

The Broad Street Studio is a suite of programs aimed at engaging Rhode Island youth in the efforts and mission of AS220. At the heart of each of the Broad Street programs is a dedication to AS220's core belief that everyone should have an opportunity to develop their creative voice and present it to the world.

Check out what's going on at the BSS (for details, visit www.as220.org), and purchase a T-shirt while you're at it. To quote the immortal Al Cerrone, "You'll be glad you did."
