The Art of Media and Social Change is a combined screening and community forum event that focuses on the current state of life for Rhode Island youth. We invite you to participate in a discussion that includes youth from both the Rhode Island Training School; the state's juvenile detention facility, and the Broad Street Studio, as well as Brown scholars and the Director/Producer of Harken Productions. This project is produced by Harken Productions and generously supported by AS220 and the Rhode Island Council on the Humanities.
