

4-1-2014

Artist Statement

Diana Castellone

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ric.edu/as220_root

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons

Recommended Citation

Castellone, Diana, "Artist Statement" (2014). AS220 Digital Archive. 436.
https://digitalcommons.ric.edu/as220_root/436

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Digital Commons @ RIC. It has been accepted for inclusion in AS220 Digital Archive by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ RIC. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@ric.edu.

Diana Castellone - Artist's Statement

I think of my artwork as a personal exploration, pushing my own boundaries of creativity.

This series sprouted from my obsession with eyes. I find myself always sketching eyes, trying to find different ways to portray these windows to the soul. I decided to take these sketches a step further and bring them to life in my own way. I got to work painting, experimenting with different mediums such as acrylics, watercolors and ink, allowing the ideas to take me to new places and going with the flow of things.

Painting is my way through the looking glass.

It is my release, my escape, my passion. My process is chaotic, as I jump into each new piece with very few direction, but the end result is rewarding. I'd rather not put words to my work, for hopefully it will speak for itself. Each person takes a little something different from each piece and I'm happy with that.