Spoon...

Bent in a cramped position, feeding the problem contributing to its death-

It's natural beauty used for fine collectibles

For its reluctance to decorate served an offbeat world -

When it was burned, it then abused back...

Its sizzle was the appetizer, some went out in a tragic fashionable trend -

Others shook putting the spoon to its mouth, while strength came out of desire, hope, and trying to drain out the hunger inside -

I say to the new comers,
the victims of loss,
old timers, one above,
and victims of involvement,

To thine ownself
Be true -

For we ate and you starved!
