1-15-1998

Coffee Ceremony

Vicente A. Paratore
Roy A. Collins
Astrid Menatian

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ric.edu/as220_root

Part of the arts and humanities commons

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.ric.edu/as220_root/280

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Digital Commons @ RIC. It has been accepted for inclusion in AS220 Digital Archive by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ RIC. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@ric.edu.
A native of Argentina, Vicente Paratore of Cranston, has been visually impaired since 1986. He now paints using his feeling and emotion, coupled with an incredible ability to visualize his subject matter. His ability to overcome the odds in order to continue his contributions to the art world is a tribute to the spirit of the many artists worldwide who face physical or mental challenges.

Vicente will give a lecture/demonstration explaining his “Painting by Touch” technique at 6:30 pm during the opening reception.

A native of New York City, Roy Collins of Warwick, is an artist, educator and author. Roy has worked extensively in the publishing field and has been an arts writer for many local publications including Quix, East Side Monthly, and The Providence Journal. He is an authority on the flora of Rhode Island focusing on mushrooms and medicinal plants and has written a number of books and articles on these subjects as well as the I Ching. He is currently writing a book of poetry titled “Agony of Flowers” and will read selections from it prior to Vicente’s lecture.

A native of Havanna, Cuba, Astrid shifts effortlessly amongst a wide range of media from drawing and painting, to sculptural installation and stained glass. A graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design, she has shown extensively throughout Rhode Island and New York City and has work in numerous collections and has received full scholarships to The Pilchuck School. Astrid maintains a studio at AS220.

AS220 GALLERIES

JANUARY 15 to FEBRUARY 14, 1998
OPENING RECEPTION:
Thursday, JANUARY 15 5-9 pm

CAFÉ

Vicente A. Paratore painting

A native of Argentina, Vicente Paratore of Cranston, has been visually impaired since 1986. He now paints using his feeling and emotion, coupled with an incredible ability to visualize his subject matter. His ability to overcome the odds in order to continue his contributions to the art world is a tribute to the spirit of the many artists worldwide who face physical or mental challenges.

Vicente will give a lecture/demonstration explaining his “Painting by Touch” technique at 6:30 pm during the opening reception.

Roy A. Collins painting

A native of New York City, Roy Collins of Warwick, is an artist, educator and author. Roy has worked extensively in the publishing field and has been an arts writer for many local publications including Quix, East Side Monthly, and The Providence Journal. He is an authority on the flora of Rhode Island focusing on mushrooms and medicinal plants and has written a number of books and articles on these subjects as well as the I Ching. He is currently writing a book of poetry titled “Agony of Flowers” and will read selections from it prior to Vicente’s lecture.

UPSTAIRS

Astrid mixed media installation

A native of Havanna, Cuba, Astrid shifts effortlessly amongst a wide range of media from drawing and painting, to sculptural installation and stained glass. A graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design, she has shown extensively throughout Rhode Island and New York City and has work in numerous collections and has received full scholarships to The Pilchuck School. Astrid maintains a studio at AS220.

Gallery and Wall Art Mart Hours
TUE-FRI 11am-4pm, Saturdays 1-4pm, closed Sunday (401)831-9327