Self - Portraits Painter Ruth Dealy

Fish

Quiz Art Quarterly

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ric.edu/as220_root

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.ric.edu/as220_root/1817

This is brought to you for free and open access by Digital Commons @ RIC. It has been accepted for inclusion in AS220 Digital Archive by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ RIC. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@ric.edu.
What is most remarkable about Dealy's work is the shock of color and detail that emanates from the canvas. Her choice of color is deliberate and direct, often using vivid reds, blues, and yellows. She uses paint to express anger, pain, and passion, often creating images that are both beautiful and disturbing. Her technique is precise, but her themes are raw and unfiltered, revealing a lot about the human condition.

Ruth Dealy's exhibitions, such as her show at the Providence Art Club, will be at the Providence Art Club, May 5th through May 31st, and at AS220, May 1st through May 31st.

Above: The Dutch Portrait, oil on canvas.

FISH BUNNY is a writer and a painter. Randy writes regularly for the Rhode Island Art Club, and regularly exhibited at AS220's definitive gallery.