11-10-1995

Ruth Dealy paints it just as she sees it

Bill

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ric.edu/as220_root

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.ric.edu/as220_root/1842
Ruth Dealy paints it just as she sees it

By BILL VAN SICLEN
Journal-Bulletin Arts Writer

PROVIDENCE

Ruth Dealy is on a roll:
Over the past two years, this talented Providence painter has enjoyed a mid-career retrospective at the Wriston Art Center in Wisconsin and a one-person show at the University of Southern Maine. She also caught the attention of The Boston Globe, which praised her "unflinching gaze" and "rousingly brill-
Dealy's paintings delve into the crevices of self

Continued from the cover

In Providence Art Club through May 27 and at AS220 through May 29. The Providence Art Club is at 11 Thomas St., hours are Mon.-Fri. 11-5, Sat. noon-Mon. 11-5, AS220 is at 115 Empire St., Providence. Hours are Tues.-Sat. 11-5 and Sun.-Sat. 1-4.